Showmanship School Held Here

The American Polled Hereford Association and Vocational Agriculture Livestock Department of Auburn University sponsored a showmanship school on the W. H. Taylor Farm July 12-13. The purpose of the school was to teach grooming, showing and feeding show cattle. Twenty-one adults and nine juniors from throughout Alabama and Florida completed the school. Demonstrations and discussions were given, after which each student made a rope halter to use on their animal during the school.

Everyone was given an animal and required to clip, wash, groom and show; they were judged on this animal. Awards were presented to the top five with the highest total points received. The winners were: Adults - 1st - Harold Baxley, Graceville, Fla.; 2nd - D. C. Fleming, Evergreen; 3rd - John Ward, Castleberry; 4th - Ronny Shavers, Lytleton; and Randall Laramore, Tuskegee. Juniors: 1st - Greg Baxley, Graceville, Fla.; 2nd - Chris Sessions, Elba; 3rd - Tammy Thagard, Brantley; 4th - Jamie Hudson, Elba; 5th - Mike Smith, Spruce Pine.

The instructors were Lucian Welly, area coordinator, American Polled Hereford Assn.; H. N. Lewis, Voc. Agriculture Livestock Specialist, Auburn; Carl Fink, Elba; Pat Awall, Carrollton, Ga.; and Bill Taylor, Elba.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:

This is not an intention to become involved with the many letters I have read by Mr. Harold R. Crook (or someone) concerning his continual controversy with the Elba School System and the School Board. I feel everyone has a right to their own grip and expression of their feelings.

With the above in mind, I feel that there are two sides or feelings to any situation and I would like to express some of mine.

First of all, I personally think we have a very fine school system and my hat is off to teachers, principals, Supt. and the School Board. Has the public realized that we have had two Phi Beta Kappas come out of our school system and numerous honor students, not to mention the number of students that have become hospital and semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship program. These people began their education in most instances in the elementary school and continued through high school.

Secondly, I think our school plants are most adequate. Of course they are not up to modern standards in structure but I haven't seen a mass approach of citizens trying to raise their taxes to provide for them either.

Now for the Supt. and School Board. Never have I ever approached Mr. Taylor with any request for information or assistance have I been treated with only politeness and cooperation. How many realize how much the pay is for each school board member? To refrain the memory, nothing it is a group of people doing their civic duty with very little thanks. We are quick to criticize but slow in rewarding good deeds.

Lastly, what's wrong with providing the City Supt. with a nice office. Each of us that work in an office or plant try to improve our surroundings. Improvements is what makes our economy grow. For one day, remodel the old home economics building and provide for these nice and adequate surroundings. I don't know of anyone yet that can do satisfactory work when their surroundings are inadequate. That includes who we work at Fort Rucker too.

As a parent of four grown children who attended Elba School for most of their lives, I again say thanks to all concerned and have much faith in what is going on in the system and I can't really see that it makes any difference if a fellow did not succeed in a business venture or not at some time in his life. Believe it or not, I have not been successful in everything!

Sincerely yours
 L. F. (Sonny) Inman

To the Elba Clipper:

We would like to express our thanks and gratitude to everyone in Elba for I am sure everyone had a part in helping my daughter Mary Ellen Mader, after her car accident while visiting Elba, to the Adkins family, where she was staying, for their wonderful hospitality and their constant vigil at the hospital while Mary Ellen was there.

Most of all to the entire hospital staff for making her stay at Elba General Hospital such a pleasant one under the circumstances. Also and most important to Dr. Crook who did such a wonderful job and remarkable job on her face.

We are sure everyone must know what a fine doctor he is. She will require plastic surgery in a few months and our Dr. Talane here in Syracuse praised what an expert job Dr. Crook did in paying the way for him in the plastic surgery.

To Terry Stiff we are so grateful in donating your most needed blood. Last but not least to the kind and generous people who took Mary Ellen and her friends to the hospital and also visited her while she was there.

Our daughter, Mary Ellen, in all her praise of Elba, that she made more friends in her short stay there than she has ever made in her fifteen years of living in Syracuse.

We should be a little envious because all she has done is to brag about Elba, Alabama and everyone who lives there. In closing all I can say in all sincerity to Dr. Crook for a town like yours that the people who show such concern in a time of need.

This letter is rather lengthy and we could certainly say much more but again thank you all for all you did for Mary Ellen. Thank you very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mader

MONETARY WOES

CONGRESSMAN BILL DICKINSON

Why is the United States, the greatest nation in the world, having economic problems? What can be done to solve these problems? Everyone, of course, has his or her own answers to these questions, but I think a few facts should shed some needed light on the situation.

As recently as 1940, 25 percent of the national debt was $43 billion. Today it is over $455 billion, more than a tenfold increase in just over three decades. The interest alone on this debt is nearly $25 billion a year. Regardless of how we spend it, the fact remains that we spend nearly half a trillion dollars more than we took in during this period.

No wonder we spend so much. It has always been popular to advocate government spending. Since public money doesn't belong to anyone, there is always the temptation to bestow it on someone. The fact is, we cannot continue these same "political economies." We can no longer afford to embark on massive fiscal fantasies, broad-scale programs with small-scale planning.

In addition, Government is our single biggest business. It provides nearly one dollar out of five of our national earnings and has a most direct effect on our economy. Over-spending has created today's inflationary surge. Money spent tends to be paid back in our complex economy. The more we spend, the more down payments are made and the more the money supply increases.

There is no doubt that we are living high on the credit card. $2.25 trillion at the end of 1972, with 55 percent owed by the Federal Reserve Bank, Federal, State and local governments and 22 percent by individuals. Thus, we have a mountain of obligation hanging over our economy.

In the past, the solution to monetary woes was to tax. Just slap on a few more dollars in power, raise more revenue and set things straight. Unfortunately, this has not worked and the American people have made it clear they will no longer stand for this simple "solution."

If we are to solve our monetary problems, Americans must wake up and realize that Government is not some kind of benevolent, kindly old gent with a bulging purse, and that the same economic laws that apply to you and me also apply to Government. From now on we must begin to get a dollar's worth of government for a dollar spent and cure the insatiable appetite of Big Government for more dollars and taxes. Will Rogers once said that it is perhaps fortunate that we do not get all the government we pay for. Maybe so, but then let's not pay for more than we really get.

With Ferrin Cox

We have two letters to the editor this week that kinda makes me proud. One is from the parents of a young girl hurt in an automobile accident. They say something we all know... Elba is a nice place, full of nice people. The other letter is bragging on the Elba School system. We all accept the fact that there are two sides to any argument but most of the time it is the "against" voice that is heard. This time a local citizen has put in writing what many people have been telling me they were planning to do but never got around to doing... write a letter commending the school system.

I put my foot or something into my mouth Sunday morning (again). A friend and I left town before day going fishing. Well, fishing was not very good and about ten we started back home. Now we rolled into Elba just before eleven and not thinking, I drove my truck, boat and all, right by the Methodist Church at ten minutes to eleven. If that was not bad enough, that traffic light was red and just would never change. Monday, I apologized to Ed Sells, not for going fishing because I planned that, but for driving by the church with a boat just as he was reflecting his flock. Sure enough he had seen us and even told me exactly what time it was when we drove by the Church. Anyway, that red light sure changes slowly on Sunday morning!

My request last week for some information on the "right to work" law and attempts to modify it got response and we are being educated on that and have a promise of the facts on the California grape pickers situation. We also received a challenge from a reader at Jack that we plan to accept, maybe next week.

I was disturbed to have several people who had previously known nothing about the little league baseball problems to ask me if the four parents listed in the front page news article were the ones complaining. Nothing could have been further from the truth. They were only victims, along with their sons. Also one of the coaches said he was thinking of suggesting that all of this year's coaches, including himself, step aside next year. Again I say, no! That little misunderstanding wasn't enough to warrant such action in my opinion. Shucks, those six coaches are all the wiser just from experiencing such problems.

A sample of a little placard crossed my desk this week. It was made to sell as a gag, but unfortunately many of us operate this way. The poster has in large print, "I Never Got Mad" and in smaller print at the bottom it read, "I Only Get Even." The first was good but that last part can only cause ulcers and an early trip to the grave.

Senator Sparkman Answers Questions

Radio Free Europe throughout the years and I believe it has done some good. I have found this to be the thought of many of our friends in Europe including Willy Brandt who endorsed these broadcasts when he met the Foreign Relations Bureau. I tend to agree with you, however, that we ought to get more help from some of our European friends with reference to the expense involved in making these broadcasts. DEAR SENATOR SPARKMAN: I have heard a lot about the gasoline shortage in recent days and I wonder if you are doing anything in the Senate to help avoid any large scale shortage of petroleum products. C. D. Birmingham

SPARKMAN: I have supported legislation which will give the President authority to allocate crude oil and refined petroleum products, so that he may deal with imminent shortages and dislocations in the national distribution system. This act calls on the President to use his authority to maintain public services, and essential agricultural operations, while at the same time to protect and maintain an economically sound and competitive petroleum industry. New Director Has Qualities To Restore FBI To High Public Esteem

SENATOR JIM ALLEN

After suffering for more than a year without a firm, the Federal Bureau of Investigation now has a new Director, Clarence M. Kelley. The fact that the United States Senate confirmed Mr. Kelley's nomination by a 92-0 vote, speaks volumes for him. Mr. Kelley's appointment is tantamount to a second term for the FBI Director with the possibility of reappointment has taken during the past year, and reconfirmation for a second term has some of the most professional and competent law enforcement personnel in the world. Mr. Kelley, himself, supports this proposal. He has it. It is a great organization also affirmed his support of an independent FBI, free of politics or political manipulation.

and his ability and integrity have not been questioned. It is certainly not because used as a tool of any Administration or of any political party support a proposal by West Virginia's able Senator Robert C. It's Around COFFEE County

BY TOM CASADAY, COUNTY EXTENSION CHAIRMAN

HOG FIELD DAY. Folks who grow hogs will have an opportunity to learn something Friday at Headland. The occasion is the hog meeting that is held every other year at the Substation Auditorium. This year a number of specialists from the Auburn University staff will be participating. The meeting will begin at 10:00 a.m. A Dutch barbecue lunch will be served at 12:00 noon, and the meeting will adjourn at 2:30 p.m. The people participating on this program are: Mr. Jay Jones, Dr. Tom High, Mr. Harold Watson, Mr. James Danton, Dr. J. Lee Alley and Dr. Dale Squires.

There never has been a better time to learn more about lowering costs in producing hogs. Mr. Speed and I hope to have a lot of Coffee County people there Friday.

AUBURN TODAY PROGRAM. My time to appear on the Auburn Today show on channel 12 in Montgomery is Saturday July 21, at 12:00. Lots of Coffee County people watch this program on Saturday at noon. I haven't completely firmed up our plans for this, but I am thinking mighty strongly of having two Coffee County farmers appear on the program with me.

During previous programs we have talked about broiler production, peanuts, beef hogs, catfish, 4-H Club, programs and a number of other items. It's a little bit difficult to come up with a real interesting program every time. However, we are fortunate in having a lot of things going on in Coffee County.

PERFORMANCE TESTED. Angus Bulls. Rocky Creek Farms. Ashford, Alabama.

ROCKY CREEK FARMS. Ashford, Alabama.

small children are affected too.

There is a lot of farm machinery like tractors, hay balers, etc. on the roads now. There will be much more activity in the next few weeks. Meet or pass these vehicles with extreme care. They are noisy and wider than other vehicles. Oftentimes, the driver does not realize that other vehicles are meeting or passing.

I don't want to pass over farm safety week without passing on the importance of teaching children to be safe while swimming in swimming pools, ponds or lakes. Let's make this a safe summer for all our people.

ASSC REMINDS

FARMERS TO MAINTAIN

CERTIFIED LAND

Coffee County farmers who have certified compliance with 1973 Farm Program requirements are reminded to continue to carry out their commitment to the program.

Mr. Rollan Day, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, says that 1073 farmers in Coffee County have certified compliance with this year's farm program by the July 2 deadline. Certification amounts to a pledge by the farmer as to his program acreage, his acreage set-aside from production, if any, and that he has complied with all program provisions.

Chairman Day pointed out that following certification, certain farms are picked at random for a spot check of program acreages. The accuracy of the certification is determined by comparing actual acreages with those certified by the producer. Chairman Day warned that producers found out of compliance could lose all or part of their program payment. Spot checks will continue throughout the remainder of the year.

He also reminded producers who wish to graze or hay set-aside acreage that they must notify the County ASCS office before they graze or hay the set-aside acreage. Chairman Day added that if a producer feels he does not understand the rules to set-aside acreage, he should contact the County ASCS office immediately.

The Ice Cream Cone

In the "good ole summertime" it is hard to imagine existing without ice cream cones. Few people have, since the impromptu introduction of this world wide favorite nearly seven decades ago.

Many people believe that the ice cream cone was created at the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair. A native of Damascus, Syria, Ernest Hamwi, operated a concession stand where he sold a product called Zalabia, a crisp wafer like pastry baked on a flat waffle iron, and served with sugar or sweets.

One day, a vendor at a neighboring booth who was selling ice cream ran out of serving dishes. Mr. Hamwi quickly rolled one of his wafer like waffles into the shape of a cornucopia, and suggested to his neighbor that he pop a ball of ice cream into it. At that moment, according to the legend, he sold a product called Zalabia, a crisp wafer like pastry baked on a flat waffle iron, and served with sugar or sweets.

To meet the ever increasing demand, a quality soft serve dairy product was developed to enable merchants to dispense larger quantities of this favorite in a shorter period of time.

Today, cones are a big business, and "Dairy Queens" the world's largest purveyor of cones, has some astonishing facts to prove it.

Since the first "Dairy Queen" store opened, the industry has sold over four billion cones a day. The figure is rapidly rising since four billion cones, mately 180 million cones are sold each year. That is equal to one half million cones sales every day of the year.

As the cone's popularity continues throughout the world, the only negative sentiments come from an occasional young mother who suspects that it was actually invented by someone who owned a laundry and needed the business. On the other hand, people concerned with better home life in high esteem.

In a world filled with litter, said one sanitation employee poetically, "the cone sinks without a trace."

COURTNEY CANNON Attends CISUM

Miss Courtney Vann Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cannon of Elba has been selected to attend CISUM. CISUM is an international event presented by Cumberland Valley Girl Scout Council. The name of the event, CISUM, happens to be the theme of the event, MUSIC, spelled backwards. One hundred and fifty girls from all over the state will come together for this exciting adventure. CISUM will be held July 17 - 30, 1973, in Nashville, Tennessee - Music City, USA. The girls will be housed on the Vanderbilt University Campus. Emphasis will be placed on the area of musical interest that each girl displays. Tours will be taken through the Grand Ole Opry, Music City Hall of Fame, Opryland, and many more. Each girl will be given the opportunity to visit a "live" recording session. There will be concerts, talent shows, picnics, plus a lot of time to get to know girls of other backgrounds and learn infinite knowledge of music by experiencing different sights and sounds.

CISUM is an event solely powered by Senior Girl Scouts. The Honorary Chairman of CISUM is Miss Minnie Pearl. Scouts have received help from Henry Romero of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences, and Bill Williams of Billboard Magazine.

Miss Cannon is a 17-year-old Senior at Elba High School. She has been in Scouting for 10 years and is presently a member of the Elba High School. She has interest in all fields of music which was part of the criteria for her selection as a participant.

UNUSUAL? MAYBE SO — BUT...

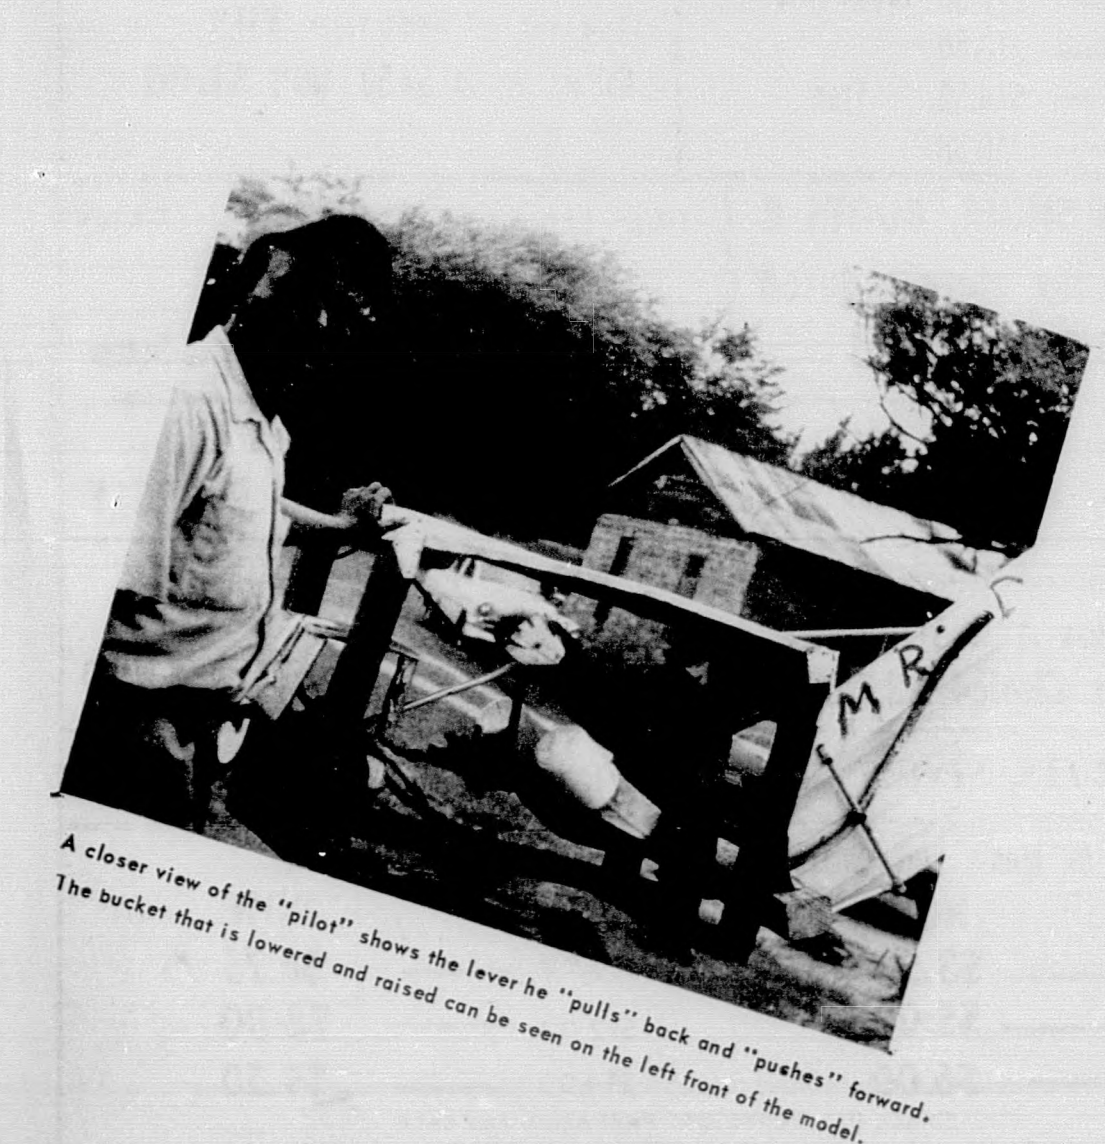

STORY & PHOTOS BY JERRY HANCHEY

It would be impossible to miss David's house. The first thing you see is all these "flying machines" — all different. On a nice, windy day the propellers on these "models" will be turning and the dummies inside will be madly moving about.

This is one of David's favorite inventions. From this model he got the idea of making a walking man. The lever in the dummy's left hand slowly moves back and forth when the wind turns the propeller. A bucket on the right side, not visible from this angle, is lowered and raised when the wind blows.

A closer view of the "pilot" shows the lever he "pulls" back and "pushes" forward. The bucket that is lowered and raised can be seen on the left front of the model.

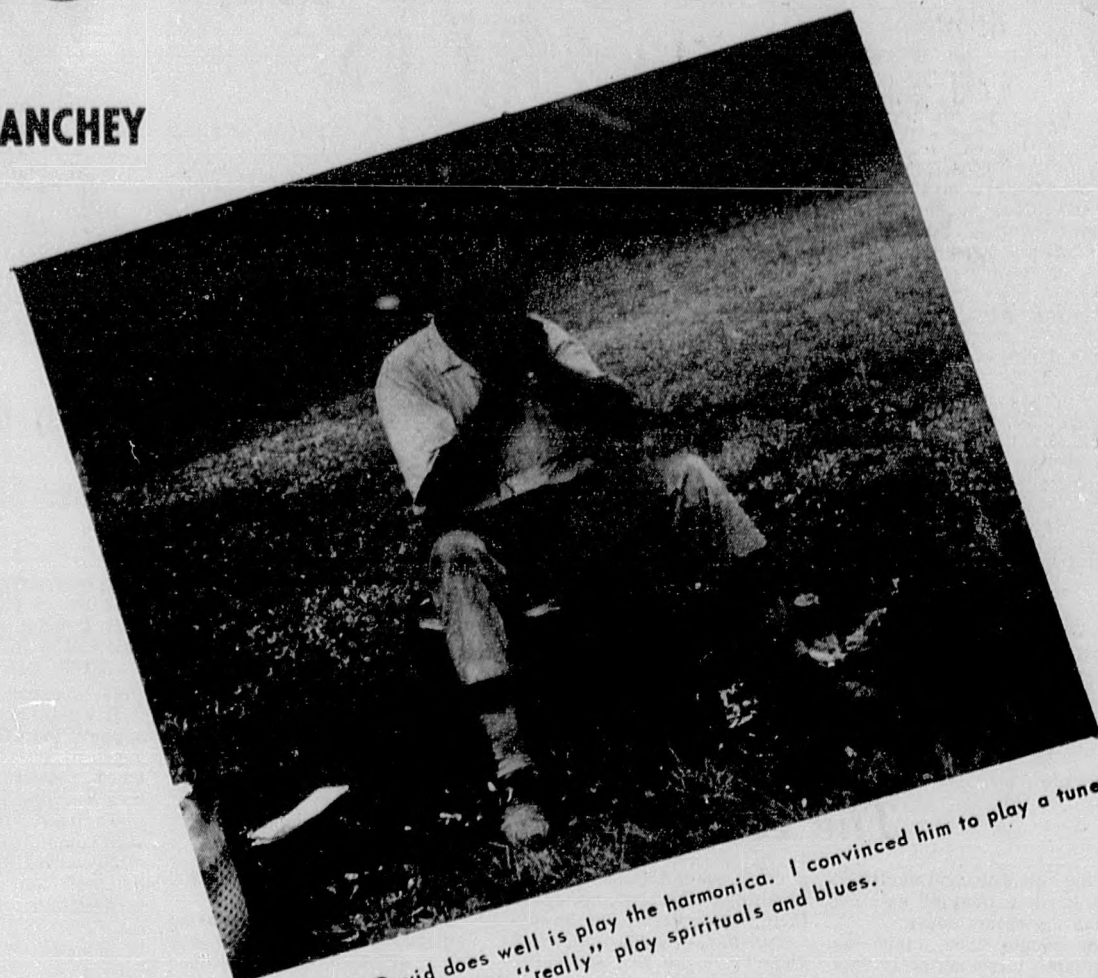

As you drive out Highway 84, east, a road just past Bradshaw's Grocery will lead to David Johnson's house. Now — who in the world is David Johnson? I suppose David is one of the most interesting men I've ever met. He has a remarkable ability to communicate with his fellow man if given the opportunity. His brain is a workshop of thought with all kinds of ideas whirling about. David is a man that knows much about many different things.

One thing David does well to play the harmonica. While talking with him about his "inventions" I convinced him to play the harmonica. He played some blues and a spiritual as good as anyone I've ever heard play the harmonica.

The main thing David is known for around Elba is his "inventions" — models of various items all associated with flying and all having dummies that actually move when wind strikes the propellers. David and I discussed his "inventions" and he believes sincerely that one day he will get a chance to put a tremendous plan into action.

To look at his "inventions" as they are now does not impress people very much. When machines are built from scraps there is no way they can be "beautiful", unless one has certain machinery to reprocess the scrap metal. David's dream is to one day own the necessary equipment to create a finished product.

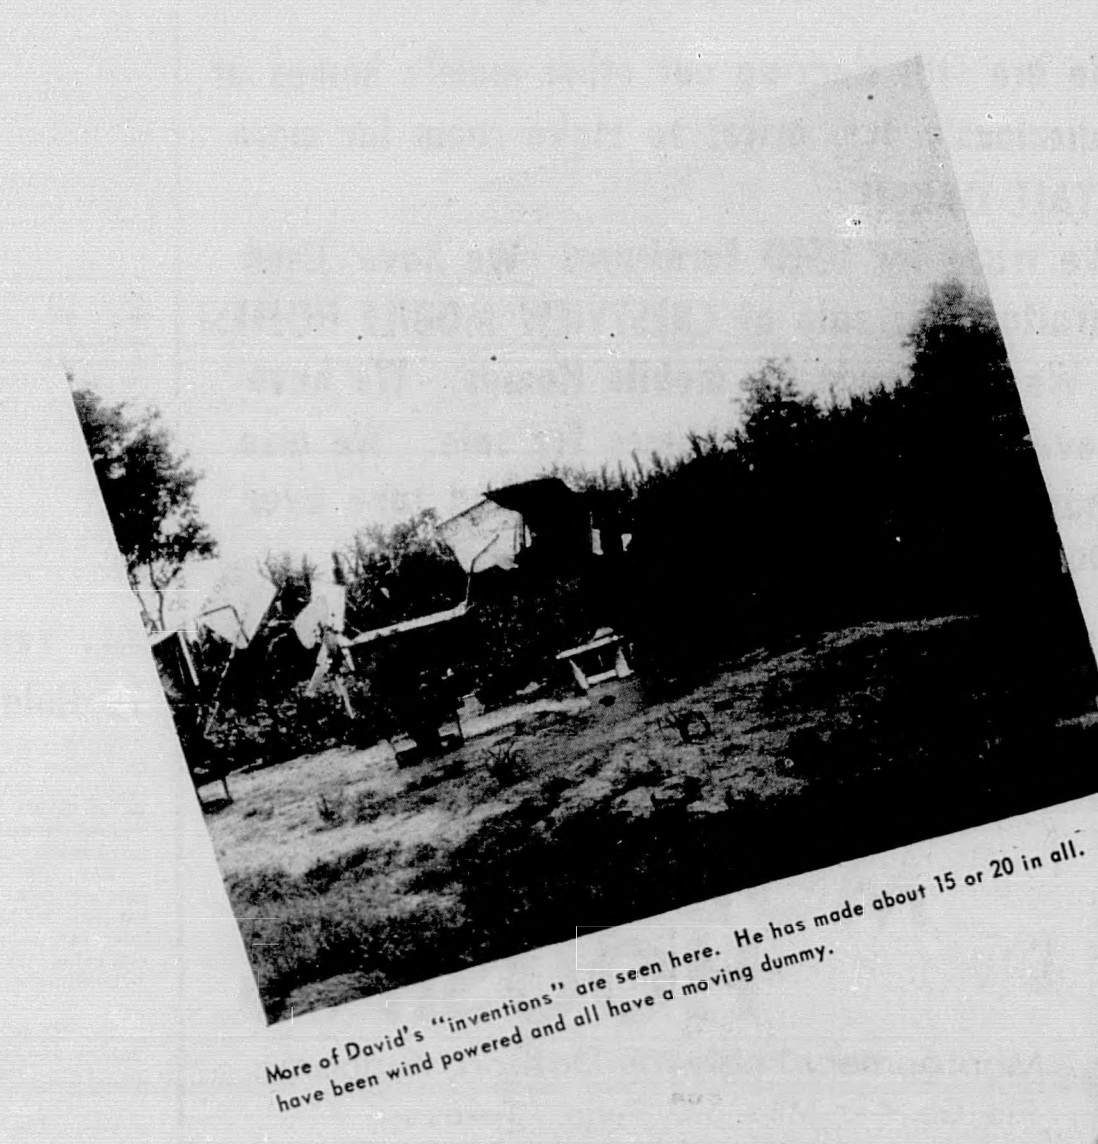

David's dreams are ones of success — success in building flying machines with life like dummies. David's brain is alive with ideas that perhaps only he can perfect, but he realizes that he must wait for that one big chance that one gets in his lifetime. David realizes that such a venture as the one he has in mind will take a tremendous investment. With good fortune and some outside assistance that may be waiting, David's dream might well come true.

Something else David does well to play the harmonica. I convinced him to play a tune and was glad I did. He can "really" play spirituals and blues.

This is another of David's favorites. The dummy in this one "really moves" when the wind strikes the propeller. He bounces up and down in his seat and seems to be "hanging on for dear life."

More of David's "inventions" are seen here. He has made about 15 or 20 in all. All have been wind powered and all have a moving dummy.

Dorsey Promotes 3 Local Executives

CHARLES ELLIS

GEORGE GRIDER

BILL BRAZELTON

Dorsey Trailers has named three new sales department executives, it was announced by Joe B. DeVane, general sales manager. All are veterans in Dorsey service.

Charles G. Ellis, formerly sales promotion director, now serves as assistant office sales manager.

George Grider was advanced from special projects director to manager of office sales and Bill Brazelton, formerly a sales coordinator, now serves as assistant office sales manager.

Ellis supervises six regional managers and is responsible for sales through a nationwide network of franchised distributors who account for a large percentage of the company's volume. He joined Dorsey in 1959 following his graduation from the University of Alabama. He held positions in the purchasing and personnel departments before moving into sales and was assistant to the sales manager from 1962 until 1968.

Grider will direct the internal operations of the sales office and also be responsible for fleet operations and special projects. He is a graduate of Auburn and went with Dorsey in 1964 as an industrial engineer. A year later he transferred into special projects as assistant to the director, and was promoted to head the department three years ago.

Brazelton has been a sales coordinator since 1969, prior to which he served as an assistant purchasing agent and also in parts sales. He attended Troy State University and Auburn.

Jr. College Offering Elba Classes

Enterprise State Junior College will offer night college courses at a branch in Elba beginning Fall Quarter 1973, provided enough people in the community are interested.

Two courses will be offered each quarter with classes meeting on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5:30 to 9:50 p.m.

Anyone interested in these courses can clip and mail to the Dean of Instruction at ESC a coupon which is attached to an advertisement elsewhere in today's issue of this newspaper.

This new-born pig was brought to the Swine Lab in Elba by Mr. J. C. Davis of the Elba Community several days ago. According to examining experts, this pig, though dead, had two perfectly developed heads.

Mr. Davis reported that he stayed with the sow until about midnight the night before and thought her litter was normal and complete when he went to bed. Checking her early the next morning, he found this unusual pig. Mr. Davis had the pig prepared for preserving, and plans to keep it on display at his home.

COURTHOUSE CHOSEN FOR HISTORICAL REGISTER

The Coffee County Courthouse in Elba has been selected for entrance in the National Register of Historical Locations, according to the Alabama Historical Commission.

Elba has been the county seat of Coffee County since 1832. It was founded about 1840 as Bridgeville, but was changed in 1850 to Beetonville, in honor of Senator Thomas Hart Benton of Missouri, who served in Alabama in 1818-1814 during the Creek War. In December 1851 the name was again changed, and the name "Elba" was drawn from a hat during a town meeting.

The first Elba courthouse, a two-story white frame building completed in 1853, was burned by "Ward's Raiders," a band of Confederate deserters, bushwhackers and Tories in 1863. In 1867 a replacement was built, and in 1881 that building was sold and moved, and the first brick courthouse was completed in 1882. That building was then enlarged, but proved inadequate, so the present courthouse was built in 1903.

In the same year the legislature passed a law, later declared unconstitutional, establishing a branch courthouse in Enterprise. In 1907 another act was passed that made provisions for a separate judicial district centered in Enterprise and provided for branches of all principal county offices to be located there. The third and present Enterprise courthouse was built in 1924.

The Elba courthouse is a two-story brick Romanesque structure with Richardsonian influences. It has twin towers, and a square clock tower rising between them, above the front entrance and balcony.

Rescue Squad Plans Saturday Roadblock

The Elba Rescue Squad will hold a road block in Elba Saturday, throughout the day, to raise funds to match a grant released by Governor George C. Wallace recently, for the purchase of a new ambulance.

Anyone may contribute any amount," says one member of the Rescue Squad. Merchants will receive special requests for donations.

Governor Wallace advises the application was handled through the Office of Highway and Traffic Safety with the Governor's Coordinator, Robert T. Simpson, and City of Elba Councilman, Charles Ellis.

Mayor Jack Brunson states the project director will be Mr. Ray Norris, Captain of the Rescue Squad.

Mr. Simpson said that the grant has been released under the Emergency Medical Services Standard of the Highway Safety Act of 1966. He also states that the Elba Rescue Squad is providing medical and ambulance services to the entire West side of Coffee County. A large percentage of the calls answered involve highway related accidents. The new ambulance will replace an old, inadequate vehicle, placing into operation two up-to-date ambulances which are essential for providing the necessary service to the citizens of Elba and the surrounding areas.

(Note: Bids on the new ambulance have already been received and opened, but according to City Clerk Tom Dyess, the lowest bid ($16,000) was too high, and invitations to bid will be sent out again in an effort to get the new ambulance at a lower price.)

The funds were made available through the Alabama Development Office and will be used to supplement loans and grants already approved by the Farmers Home Administration. The Governor recently approved the revenue sharing funds to the ADO for the purpose of assisting in the development of rural and small town central water systems.

Judge James Sawyer, Rep. Douglas Easters, Commissioner Byron Galloway and New Hope delegates Ed Fillingim and Donnie Egerton met with Red Bamberg, head of ADO in Montgomery recently to make the case for the funds.

Governor Wallace presented the check in the House Chamber of the State Capitol.

Other sources of funds to New Hope were $50,000 Farmers Home Administration loan, $32,000 Farmers Home Administration grant, $1,000 Members Contribution, making a total of $137,000 for the cost of the project.

2-Headed Pig Shown

There will be a Gospel Singing, celebrating 10 years of Gospel Music at the Brantley Football Stadium, Brantley, Ala., on Friday, July 27, at 8 o'clock p.m.

Featured groups will be the Davis Brothers and the Way-Farers Quartet.

Tickets will be $2.00 for Adults, and $1.00 for children under 12.

Some seating will be available, but lawn chairs should be brought.

RESCUE SQUAD REPORT

The following runs were made by the Elba Rescue Squad during the period of July 16 through 24:

Three from home to Elba General; one from hospital to home; one to a Dothan doctor's office; two from Kleinert's; one from the Elba jail, one from a local motel, all to Elba General; two from home to Elba to Coffee General in Enterprise; one from Elba General to Coffee General; and one from a wreck off the old Samson Highway to Elba General.

Mayor Plans Meeting With Teenagers

Mayor Jack Brunson released the following statement this week:

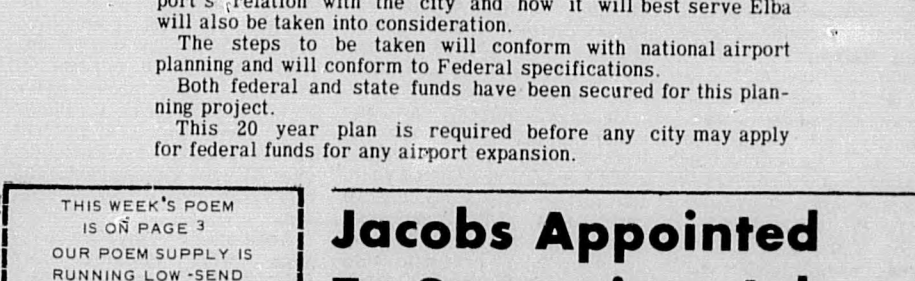

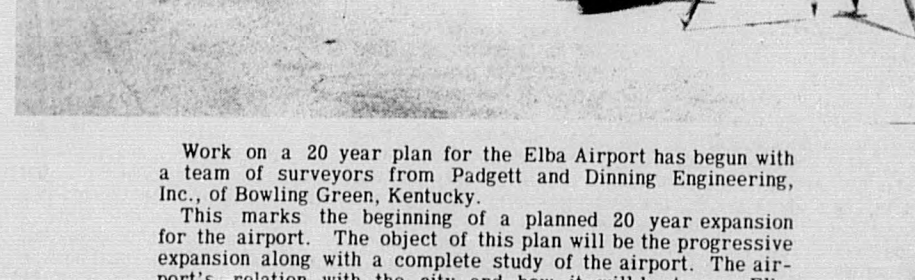

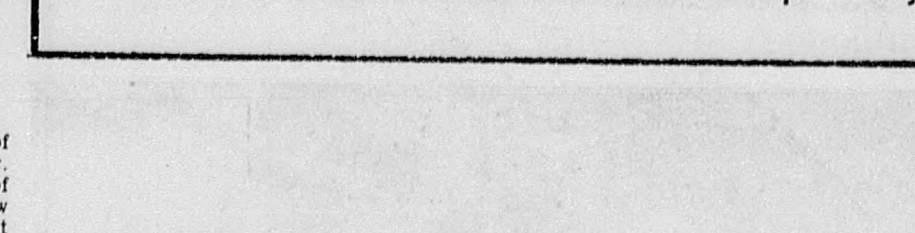

I am requesting those young people (entering grades 7 through 12 this year) who are interested in the continued operation of the Recreation Center to meet with me on Friday, July 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the Recreation Center. The purpose of this meeting is to informally discuss the operation of the Center and the proposed skating rink.

Although we are presently having some problems at the Center, I have enough faith and confidence in our young people to believe that everything can be worked out. This is why I am requesting that only the young people meet with me. In an effort to encourage all interested young people to attend this meeting and take part in the discussions, parents are not being invited.
